Dear Bob:

Enclosed is the manuscript on "hyphenless justification" which we discussed over the telephone. It describes a novel and unique method of text composition, without hyphens, using a computer and the Photon machine. I believe it makes an important contribution to the field.

[REDACTED] have asked me to recommend sources of publication. Would you please review the manuscript for possible publication in DATAMATION and let me know your reaction? Any other suggestions will also be welcome.

With personal regards,

Sincerely,
